

CLEAN IT OUT!

Event's one-stop drop will help you with your spring-cleaning needs

Mark the date – Saturday, March 30 -- and join other Temescal Valley residents at the Bicentennial Clean Out, co-sponsored by the Temescal Heritage Foundation and the Waste Management El Sobrante Landfill.

The 8 a.m. to noon event, held at the north parking lot of Deleo Regional Sports Park, will provide a perfect opportunity for you to kick off your spring house-cleaning by “decluttering” your home offices, closets, garages and yards. And, you can do it all at one stop and all for FREE!

Here's what will be collected:

Large Item trash: Acceptable items include any oversized household solid waste, i.e., furniture, appliances, air conditioners, refrigerators, mattresses, lumber. No green or hazardous waste!

E-waste: All electronics – such as computers, laptops, LCD monitors and TVs, TV/CRT monitors, UPS, plasma TVs, DVD/VHS players, tape drives, hard drives, stereos/speakers, fax machines, mobile phones, printers/copiers, etc. A release form must be signed for TV/monitor devices. Alkaline batteries will be accepted -- 1 pound per vehicle; additional weight will be charged at 50-cents per pound.

Document Shredding: Protect your personal information and destroy your confidential documents.

El Cerrito Public Library: Donate your used books.

Used Clothing & Textile Donations: To benefit the Cole Peterson St. Jude Pediatric Oncology Fundraiser. Acceptable items: clothing, shoes, hats, gloves, belts, purses, bags, draperies and curtains, table linens, stuffed animals, backpacks. Place in plastic trash bags and mark the bags, i.e., clothing, shoes and purses, stuffed animals, etc.

TEMESCAL VALLEY TOWN HALL

The annual Town Hall, hosted by Supervisor Kevin Jeffries and the Temescal Valley Municipal Advisory Council, happens at 5:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 13 at Temescal Valley Elementary School, 22950 Claystone Ave., in the Wildrose Ranch community.

Visit with county departments including sheriff, fire and code enforcement – plus school and waters districts, utilities and CHP. Ask questions and get answers.

Fred Myers sworn in as director on TVWD board

Fred Myers, at the February meeting of the Temescal Valley Water District Board of Directors, was sworn in to replace the unexpired term of long-time board member Grant Destache.

Fred and his wife Linda have lived in the Corona/Temescal Valley area since 1974, and 11 years ago purchased their home in The Retreat. They have been married for 38 years and have four adult children and nine grandchildren.

Both Myers for many years were actively involved in youth development programs, including Little League and girls' softball. Fred was the Corona Youth Sports Commissioner from 1978 to 1980.

Prior to retirement, Fred had an extensive background of more than 45 years in the aerospace industry. His experience included Manufacturing Operations, Industrial Engineering, Production Control and Production Planning. He ended his career at McDonnell Douglas/Boeing Aircraft as General Manager of the MD-11 Production Program.

Fred currently is a director on The Retreat Community Homeowners Association and a member of two facilities committees associated with traffic and golf course negotiation. He is an active member of We Are Temescal Valley, serving on the Development Committee.

Fred joins the five-member TVWD board that includes C.W. “Charlie” Colladay, president; Paul Rodriguez, vice president, secretary and treasurer; John Butler and David Harich.

TVWD furnishes water and sewer services to all Temescal Valley communities with the exception of Horsethief Canyon Ranch, California Meadows, Butterfield Estates (served by Elsinore Valley Municipal Water District), and those on well water and septic tanks in rural areas. TVWD also supplies water to Glen Eden and provides sewer services to Butterfield Estates and Cal Meadows.

The board meets the fourth Tuesday of each month, 8:30 a.m., at district headquarters, 22646 Temescal Canyon Road. The meetings are open to the public.

Planners give OK to 16 homes proposed in Sycamore Creek

The Riverside County Planning Commission at its March 6 meeting voted to recommend to the Board of Supervisors approval of a 16 single-family housing tract to be constructed on 8.1 gross acres in the Sycamore Creek area.

Also recommended for approval was a general plan amendment to change the land-use designation from Community Development: Very Low Density Residential to Medium Density Residential and a zone change from Rural Residential to General Residential.

This tract of 16 homes would be the first to be built in The Highlands at Sycamore Creek, a community planned on about 90 acres of property owned by the The Kiley Children's Trust. The location is south of Santiago Canyon Road and next to the Lennar homes now under construction. Two future tracts are planned and each also will require county approval.

Included in the first phase of what would be an HOA-governed community is a 0.75-acre pocket park with picnic tables, open space area with DG trails and a water quality basin.

The project isn't new – it's been under consideration for about 15 years, according to Wayne Kiley, a long-time Temescal Valley resident. Kiley said his original plan was to build estate-sized homes on estate-sized lots.

As Sycamore Creek started to build out its specific plan in that area, and particularly the 192 Lennar homes now under construction, it became apparent to Kiley -- who would purchase an estate-sized home on acreage directly adjacent to homes on 5,000- and 6,000-square-foot lots?

The 16 homes approved by the Planning Commission will be surrounded on three sides by the new Lennar homes. The average lot size for the 16 Kiley homes is 8,800 square feet – considerably larger than the Lennar homes, according to Kiley.

A total of 110 homes are planned in all three phases of The Highlands. Tract No. 37155, south of Kingbird Drive and Towhee Lane, proposes 79 homes with an average lot size of 5,900 square feet. Tract No. 37154 at the south end of Towhee, proposes 15 homes with an average lot size of 13,300 square feet.

Although separate approvals are being sought for each of the three phases, construction will not begin until all phases are approved. Tentative tract maps for phases 2 and 3 have been submitted to the county and are anticipated to be reviewed by the Planning Commission in three to four months.

Proposed also is a 6.2-acre nature park with 25 parking spaces and trails that would connect the park to Deleo Regional Sports Park and to the Indian Truck Trail that heads into the Cleveland National Forest. Kiley also will donate 56 acres of land to the county for permanent conservation.

The land use changes and tract map for the first phase, with the recommendation of the Planning Commission, will now go before the Board of Supervisors for a public hearing at a yet-to-be determined date.

Corona-Norco Unified School District named 'Exemplary'

The Corona-Norco Unified School District has been announced as a 2019 California Exemplary District by the California Department of Education.

With 1,026 school districts in the state, CNUSD was one of only 18 districts to receive the distinction and the only district in Riverside County to receive the honor this year.

According to the district's Connection newsletter, "CNUSD was selected based on positive school culture and climate with an emphasis on student and family engagement and exceptional strides in student achievement."

CNUSD Superintendent Dr. Michael Lin said, "This recognition would not have been possible without our extraordinary teachers, classified staff, administrators, students, parents, and our supportive community."

He added, "As the largest school district in the Inland Empire, I am proud that we continue to maintain our longstanding history of academic excellence while being fiscally diligent in allocating limited resources to ensure continued student success. We accept this award proudly together with our community."

Dr. Lin concluded, "I'd like to also take this opportunity to thank our Board Members for laying the foundation and continuing to move CNUSD forward with their visionary leadership."

In addition, Corona Fundamental Intermediate School was named a 2019 California Distinguished School.

Based on the state Department of Education website, other CNUSD Distinguished Schools within the attendance boundaries for Temescal Valley students and the year they received it are: El Cerrito Middle School – 2009, 2013; Temescal Valley Elementary School – 2008, 2018; Centennial High School – 2013.

During 2015-2017, the Distinguished School award was replaced with the Gold Ribbon School distinction. Schools within the Temescal Valley attendance boundaries receiving this award are: Santiago High School and El Cerrito Middle School, both in 2017.

Holy Fire, floods take severe toll on Werner mines

(EDITOR'S NOTE: While we all are aware of what Glen Eden and other high-risk Holy Fire burn areas have faced and will continue to face when heavy rains fall, not many people know what Eric Werner and the Werner Corp. quarries are experiencing. With such over-whelming challenges posed to this long-time, family-owned Temescal Valley company, it's amazing that Eric can remain upbeat and optimistic. We asked him to share his story with the Temescal Valley community.) Photos by ROB MUCHA

Since Dec. 6th we have received well over 150,000-plus cubic yards of mud and debris via the Mayhew and Coldwater Canyon flow lines.

Flash flooding and heavy rains have inundated our emergency debris basins depositing mud and debris throughout various parts of the property. It is an ongoing battle to adequately clear these pipes and basins in time for the next storms, even with all our heavy equipment.

At this juncture, we still have not been able to clearly define the total extent of the damage or total amount of debris out of the hills as it is still coming down, and employees are working around the clock to keep pipes and channels clear.

The material has been mostly mud and debris mixed with some rock and sand. Unfortunately, this mix is problematic as we cannot process it without the costly process of extracting all the organics including all the debris and burnt logs.

Even then, the material is mostly mud and silt so it cannot be used in concrete, asphalt, or any other construction-grade building materials. Therefore, we are trying to get it all out of the way to deal with later. At this point, things have temporarily stabilized, but we are really just trying to fight our way through until the rains stop entirely.

In the meantime, both the Holy Fire and the rains have taken a heavy toll on us financially as we focus on digging out and completing earthwork, most which is not covered by insurance as we have discovered. Fortunately, we have not lost any equipment or structures to date.

Employee safety has been our primary concern, and we are very fortunate to have some hard-working, brave managers and employees who have worked diligently to ensure the safety of their fellow co-workers.

With that said, mother nature has delivered some record rain totals including a single 12-hour rain event that was only a few tenths of an inch short of qualifying as a 200-year rain event, per rain gauges monitored by the Department of Forestry in the area.

Having the Holy Fire followed up by historic rain totals has been very hard for everyone in the Temescal Valley, and I know for us it has definitely taken its toll.

Our family is inspired by the hard work of our team, and we hope this only makes us stronger. It has been truly amazing watching the residents within Temescal Valley come together through these events to persevere and continue to fight.

So, while we dig out, we're going to try and enjoy the poppy bloom and new, green growth on the hills above us.

Eric Werner

DEBRIS FLOW: Eric Werner stands in the path of one of the flows which dumped mud, silt and debris, including boulders and tree limbs and trunks into the pits.

DIGGING OUT: Heavy equipment continues to clean up. Picture these pits 30 feet deeper. That's the depth of debris that flowed into them. BELOW: Water continues to flow from the canyons into areas of the quarry where the Holy Fire burned.

GOCO presents updated plans for Glen Ivy Hot Springs

An update on plans for Glen Ivy Hot Springs by owner GOCO Hospitality was presented at the February Temescal Valley Municipal Advisory Council (MAC), meeting by Joel Morse of T&B Planning, a Tustin-based consulting firm specializing in land use planning.

In announcing plans for the 159-year-old Temescal Valley landmark at the council's meeting last July, Morse had said it was GOCO's intention to keep the community updated in each step of the process.

In July, during a lengthy presentation, overall plans for the 82.5 acres were discussed. Glen Ivy Hot Springs today encompasses only 14.1 acres. Proposed for the remaining acreage is current spa expansion, a hotel for short-term stays and a retreat for guests wanting a longer stay, a parking structure, a retail shopping area with restaurants, and 255 residential units which comprise 28.2 acres.

Open space would total 32.2 acres that include exercise areas, hiking, biking and walking trails, organic gardens and community parks including an Oak Tree Preservation Park. About 14.5 acres would be set aside for permanent conservation.

A BICENTENNIAL MOMENT . . .

Rose Lucille Ellerbe journeyed to California as a teacher in 1884 and then became a journalist, contributing regularly to the Los Angeles Times. She also was a historian who wrote several pieces on the history of the greater L.A. area.

In 1920, her "History of Temescal Valley" was published by the Historical Society of Southern California. She was fortunate to have been able to interview two of Leandro Serrano's surviving daughters.

Does the artfully-written first paragraph of her 100-year history foreshadow Temescal Valley's second 100 years? If Rose visited here today, we wonder what her perception would be.

"In the history of our planet, a century of time is but a breath; yet we of today find it almost impossible to visualize the life of our forerunners of a hundred years ago, or to understand the conditions of their daily living, much less the spirit that animated them. In a way, the history of the Temescal valley is typical of that of many another obscure corner of California. During the slow-rolling years it has passed through many changes; it has been the scene of tranquil lives undisturbed by modern unrest and change; of high hopes and anxious fears; of romance, tragedy, and comedy. And at last it has become the victim of present-day utilitarianism, drained, to a large extent, of its abundant waters and torn and despoiled by the huge machines that take out its most prosaic yet valuable treasures, clay and building materials."

Learn more historic facts and find the link to the Ellerbe history on our bicentennial page: WeAreTV.org/Bicentennial/. Please join us at 9 a.m., Saturday, March 16 for our next Bicentennial Committee meeting in the Temescal Room at the Trilogy Lodge, 24503 Trilogy Parkway.

At the February meeting, Morse presented a more detailed map of the Specific Plan outlining the proposed planning areas. He also addressed some of the concerns voiced by Trilogy residents living adjacent to Glen Ivy – traffic, noise, lighting, viewscales and emergency access.

Morse said the traffic impact analysis would be addressed in the Environmental Impact Report. Noise and lighting would be mitigated by trees and landscaping to buffer Trilogy homes closest to the spa, plus residential development is planned there.

Concerns about the lighting in the current parking areas would be mitigated by the addition of a multi-tiered parking structure and relocating it elsewhere on the property. Downlighting will be used throughout the proposed planning areas.

Morse showed sight line views from the back yards of two Trilogy homes on Hughes Drive between Reserve and Littlehorn drives. MAC board member and Trilogy resident Lee Wilson asked for additional views from homes on Hatton Lane and Gleneagles Drive, which Morse said was an "excellent suggestion."

Wilson also told Morse that while Shea Homes had granted an emergency access easement to Glen Ivy Hot Springs prior to Trilogy being built, Gleneagles Drive residents still are questioning the validity of the easement because it wasn't disclosed when they purchased their homes.

Morse told the audience that GOCO anticipates submitting the Specific Plan to the county Planning Department at the end of this month. It is expected the Environmental Impact Report will be completed by spring or summer of this year and be ready for public review and scoping meeting comments by fall or winter.

The next step will be a public hearing before the county Planning Commission, anticipated early next year. Commissioners will vote to recommend either approval or denial of the project to the Board of Supervisors.

The final hearing, which would follow shortly and again allow public comments, will be before the Board of Supervisors for a vote to approve or deny the project.

#rebootmy COMMUTE

We Are Listening

We know you are frustrated by traffic, late trains, potholed streets, and how long it takes for improvements to happen. We are frustrated too. The status quo must change. This is why today RCTC is announcing our new public outreach initiative #RebootMyCommute, an opportunity for you to say how and where to spend our limited transportation dollars to make the biggest impact in Riverside County.

Solving transportation challenges requires teamwork, and RCTC has made it easy for you to share your ideas. Visit rebootmycommute.org, send a text message, connect with us through social media, or call us – we want to hear your story. Post photos and videos and tell us your experiences – good and bad – on the road, bus, train, bike, or sidewalk. We want to know what transportation projects matter most to you. We also want to know the services that seniors, students, veterans, and people with disabilities need to live full and independent lives.
